Motivational Interviewing (MI) is a form of collaborative conversation for strengthening a person’s own motivation and commitment to change. It is a person-centered counselling style for addressing the common problem of ambivalence about change by paying particular attention to the language of change. MI was first introduced in 1983 by William Miller and Stephen Rollnick. Since then, MI has become woven into day-to-day practice by a wide range of professionals around the world.

Shan You Counselling Centre is the pioneer to introduce MI into Singapore in 2005 and we are thrilled to present the inaugural Asia-Pacific Symposium on Motivational Interviewing (APSMI) in 2015.

Lunch and Tea breaks will be provided.
