WHAT IS MI? Motivational Interviewing is a collaborative conversational style that strengthens a person's own motivation and commitment to change by exploring and resolving ambivalence. MI is a guiding approach that is used in a variety of healthcare settings to assist individuals to prepare themselves to take action.

This two-day intensive training will guide participants through a sequence of learning activities to support the development of proficiency in the application of MI. In this training, participants will:

- Explore ways to enhance behavior change using the MI approach;
- Learn the key principles and core skills of MI;
- Practice MI skills and strategies designed to evoke motivation for change.

You should attend this training if you are a healthcare professional who:

- Works with people to change their health behaviors;
- Is interested in translating their MI knowledge into practice;
- Wants a hands on opportunity to hone their MI skills.

Training facilitated by Cindy Morris, a Motivational Interviewing Network of Trainers (MINT)-certified trainer and MINT Member, and Kathleen Moreira, a MINT member.
